My First Day at an English Language School

My name is Asel. I am from Almaty, Kazakhstan. I am twenty-two years old. Today is my first day at an English language school. I am very excited and a little nervous.

My teacher's name is David. He is from London, England. He is thirty years old. He is friendly and patient.

In my class, there are fifteen students. We are from different countries — Kazakhstan, Russia, Kyrgyzstan, and Azerbaijan. We are all beginners. We do not speak English well yet, but we want to learn.

Our classroom is small but nice. There are desks, chairs, a whiteboard, and a big window. The window is next to my desk.

David says: "Hello, everyone! Welcome to English class. I am your teacher. My name is David. What is your name?"

I say: "My name is Asel. I am from Kazakhstan."

"Nice to meet you, Asel," he says with a smile.

After the introductions, we learn the alphabet and numbers. It is fun. I like this class. I think I will enjoy learning English.

Cultural Note / Культурная заметка

In English-speaking countries, people often greet each other with "How are you?" This is usually a polite formality, not a genuine question about your health. The typical answer is "Fine, thanks!" or "Good, thanks!" — even if you are not feeling great. Save detailed health reports for close friends!

RU:

В англоязычных странах вопрос "How are you?" — это приветствие, а не реальный вопрос о здоровье. Стандартный ответ: "Fine, thanks!" или "Good, thanks!" Не нужно рассказывать о своих проблемах незнакомцам — это воспримут как странность.

- ☐ Describe daily routines using Present Simple
- ☐ Use adverbs of frequency (always, usually, never...)

RU:

Настоящее простое время (Present Simple) используется для привычек, рутинных действий, фактов и вещей, происходящих регулярно. Важно: это НЕ то, что происходит прямо сейчас.

He/She/It + verb + -s/-es

Negative: I do not (don't) + verb

RU:

Наречия частотности показывают, как часто что-то происходит. Они стоят ПЕРЕД смысловым глаголом, но ПОСЛЕ глагола to be. Порядок: always (100%) → usually → often → sometimes → rarely → never (0%).

Form / Structure

Cultural Note / Культурная заметка

In the UK and USA, people often say "How are you?" and "How's it going?" as greetings. The British also love talking about the weather — it's a common conversation starter. If someone invites you for "tea," they might actually mean dinner!

RU:

В Великобритании "tea" может означать не только напиток, но и ужин, особенно в северных регионах. А разговор о погоде — это классический способ начать непринуждённую беседу с незнакомцем.

My Neighbourhood

My name is Zarina. I live in a residential area in Almaty. My neighbourhood is called Alatau. I love living here.

My neighbourhood is quite large. There are many apartment buildings and a few private houses. Most buildings are modern, but there are some old ones too.

Near my house, there is a supermarket, two small shops, and a pharmacy. The supermarket is open until 10 PM. There is also a park with trees and benches. In summer, I always walk in the park in the evenings.

There is a school opposite my house. The school is quite big. Next to the school, there is a sports ground where children play football and basketball.

On the main street, there are several cafés and restaurants. There is a small café called "Morning" that I really like. They make excellent coffee and the prices are reasonable.

There isn't a hospital in my neighbourhood, but there is a clinic for basic medical care. The nearest hospital is about ten minutes by taxi.

My neighbourhood is safe, clean, and friendly. The neighbours all know each other. I am happy to live here.

Cultural Note / Культурная заметка

In English-speaking countries, when someone asks "How do I get to...?", it is polite to walk with them a short distance if it is complicated. In the UK, people often use landmarks rather than street names: "Turn left at the pub" or "It's opposite the big supermarket."

RU:

В Великобритании при указании дороги часто ориентируются на достопримечательности, а не названия улиц: "поверните у паба" или "напротив большого магазина". Это отличие от казахстанской культуры, где принято называть конкретные адреса.

Grammar Reference / Грамматический справочник

Summary of all grammar points covered in this course.

The Verb "To Be" — Present Simple

The verb "to be" is the most important verb in English. It tells us about states, identities, and qualities. In Present Simple, it has three forms: am, is, are.

RU:

Глагол "to be" — самый важный глагол в английском. Он описывает состояния, идентичность и качества. В настоящем простом времени имеет три формы: am (я), is (он/она/оно), are (мы/вы/они).

- ☐ I am (I'm) / You are (You're) / He/She/It is (He's/She's/It's)
- ☐ We are (We're) / You are (You're) / They are (They're)
- ☐ Negative: I am not (I'm not) / You are not (You aren't)
- ☐ Question: Am I? / Are you? / Is he/she/it?

Personal Pronouns

Personal pronouns replace nouns and tell us who is doing the action or who/what we are talking about.

RU:

Личные местоимения заменяют существительные. Субъектные (I, you, he...) используются в роли подлежащего. Объектные (me, you, him...) — в роли дополнения.

- ☐ Subject: I, you, he, she, it, we, they
- ☐ Object: me, you, him, her, it, us, them

Present Simple — Regular Actions

We use the Present Simple tense to talk about habits, routines, facts, and things that happen regularly. It describes what we normally do, not what is happening right now.

RU:

Настоящее простое время (Present Simple) используется для привычек, рутинных действий, фактов и вещей, происходящих регулярно. Важно: это НЕ то, что происходит прямо сейчас.

- ☐ Affirmative: I/You/We/They + verb (base form)
- ☐ He/She/It + verb + -s/-es
- ☐ Negative: I do not (don't) + verb

- ❑ He does not (doesn't) + verb
- ❑ Questi on: Do I/you/we/they + verb?
- ❑ Does he/she/it + verb?

Adverbs of Frequency

Adverbs of frequency tell us how oft en something happens. They go BEFORE the main verb but AFTER "to be".

RU:

Наречия частотности показывают, как часто что-то происходит. Они стоят ПЕРЕД смысловым глаголом, но ПОСЛЕ глагола to be. Порядок: always (100%) → usually → oft en → sometimes → rarely → never (0%).

- ❑ always (100%) — I always brush my teeth.
- ❑ usually (80%) — She usually has breakfast.
- ❑ oft en (60%) — We oft en go to the park.
- ❑ sometimes (40%) — He sometimes works late.
- ❑ rarely (20%) — I rarely eat fast food.
- ❑ never (0%) — They never smoke.

There is / There are

"There is" and "There are" are used to say that something exists in a parti cular place. "There is" is for singular nouns; "there are" is for plural nouns.

RU:

"There is/are" используется для указания на существование чего-либо. "There is" — с единственным числом, "there are" — с множественным. В русском языке этому соответствует "есть" или "находится/находятся".

- ❑ Affirmati ve: There is a + noun. / There are + noun(s).
- ❑ Negati ve: There isn't a + noun. / There aren't any + noun(s).
- ❑ Questi on: Is there a + noun? / Are there any + noun(s)?

Descripti ve Adjecti ves — Order

When we use several adjecti ves to describe a noun, they follow a specific order: Opinion → Size → Age → Shape → Colour → Origin → Material + Noun.

RU:

При использовании нескольких прилагательных порядок такой: Мнение → Размер → Возраст → Форма → Цвет → Происхождение → Материал + Существительное.

- ❑ a beauti ful small old round green Italian wooden table
- ❑ Opinion: lovely, ugly, terrible

- ☐ Size: big, small, tall, short
- ☐ Age: old, new, young, ancient
- ☐ Colour: red, blue, green, dark
